Democrats believe in partiality: republicans in fairness. Democrats chose five out of eight county candidates for office from Greencastle and the other three from two townships. Eleven townships have no representation whatever upon their county ticket. The republicans divided as fairly as possible. Eight townships are represented by eight candidates. The offices are distributed and Greencastle gets but one—all she is entitled to. Voter think of this between now and November!

In the light of the recent decision of the supreme court on Nicholson matters, it seems that County Commissioner Talbot has about hung himself up by the thumbs on consistency. He has been voting on remonstrance matters but about six months. The supreme court has led him back to the point where he ought to have had the courage to stick in the beginning.

The only republican member of the county board of commissioners now has the satisfaction of knowing he was right. He was called stubborn by the democratic press. He was right and deserves the confidence of the people.

THE Democrat grows soft this week and whines because this paper has given it the name of "organette," and it then goes on with a lecture upon newspaper etiquette. The word organ is one applied to party newspapers generally and is no nickname. Before the Democrat was born the democratic party had an organ. It was a pretty bad one to be sure, wheezy, and played the same old tune all the time, but it was an organ just the same. We refer to the Star Press. When the Democrat stepped in we couldn't give it the title of organ as the party already had one. We were therefore compelled to do the next best thing and name it the organette. This the Democrat has at last refused to carry without a kick and now goes into a lecture. It says:

"Applying nicknames and making mouths are the weapons of children and fools. If we wish to retaliate we could find a variety of 'names' to apply to that paper, without manufacturing them."

Let's see about this matter of names. On April 4 the Democrat spoke of the BANNER TIMES as a mouth piece; on April 18 a bosses organ; on May 2 as the swivel. These are illustrations of the news paper courtesy it has shown recently. We can go through its files and find hundreds of such. Now, assuming that what the Democrat says in its lecture printed above is true, we would like to ask of the Democrat what fool or what child was editing it when it gave voice to the gems of propriety, we have quoted from its columns of April 4 and other dates? It often boasts that it has no outside editor, so the public can readily see that the organette has had about rope enough to hang itself on etiquette. It should get older in the business before it preaches propriety.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM WINDOM

The New York Herald is reproducing from day to day extracts from the memorial speech made by the late William Windom, of Minnesota, while he was Secretary of the Treasury under President Harrison. It was delivered at the annual banquet of the New York Chamber of Commerce, and on the night of its delivery, February 5, 1891, Mr. Windom was suddenly stricken with a fatal attack of apoplexy. Here are a couple of extracts from his speech:

The sudden retirement of $600,000,000 of gold, with the accompanying panic, would cause contraction and commercial disaster unparalleled in human experience; and our country would at once step down to the silver basis, when there would be no longer any inducement for coinage, and silver dollars would sink to the bullion value.

Probably before the swiftest ocean greyhound could land its silver cargo at New York the last gold dollar within reach would be safely hidden away in private boxes and in vaults of safe deposit companies, to be brought out only by high premium for exportation.

A LONDON correspondent writes that this has been a fat year for England. Yes, that's true. It has been an exceedingly lean one for the United States. The misfit tariff law was to a great extent made to favor England. The republican idea is to give the favors to the American people. The entire American people seem, this year, to be possessed of that idea.

In rendering its decision on the Nicholson law the Supreme court said: "We have given these questions much thought and review, as the magnitude and importance thereof demand, and we now proceed to pass in judgment upon the have led us to the conclusions reached." The county commissioners can learn something from the foregoing clause quoted, and that is to state reasons. A bare statement that a petition fails for lack of a majority and the court refuse to state wherein a majority fails is no logic at all. The county commissioners should state who were illegal signers upon that Third ward petition.

It will now be in order for Mr. Talbot, the vacillating commissioner, to vacillate again. The supreme court has decided the Nicholson law to be constitutional and it says in unmistakable terms that a signer can not take his name off a petition in the three days interim in which the paper is with the county auditor. Mr. Talbot made just such a finding as this once upon a time. It was the first time he had a chance at the law. He didn't have the nerve, however, or the force of character to stay with his first decision, and at the next chance he changed his mind and decided in an opposite direction. He jumped the wrong way, however, and will now have to vacillate back to just exactly where he started. This is a fine spectacle for a candidate for re-election to the important position of commissioner to present to his constituents asking them to vote for him. Such a fluttering and wavering on a question was never before seen here, and we doubt not hasn't a parallel in the state. The BANNER TIMES said that Mr. Talbot would have a pattern set for him. He has it now from the court of last resort in Indiana. When he goes back to his first proposition he will have had a record as a vacillator that is entitled to a premium. He has surely had plenty of action.

If the people of Putnam want men who as commissioners will not jump every way, they should elect Messrs. Reat and Stoner. These men can be relied upon at all times and will do their duty without fear or favor. They will not vacillate nor try to curry favor by getting on both sides of a question. Firmness is the kind of stuff the people admire in a man. The present republican commissioner has such a trait in his make up and it would now be well to give us three such men.

It isn't very often that the entire seventy million's of people in the United States have money on a race, but they now have. In the race between gold and free coinage every man has his money up.

The Star Press has not explained yet why it figured Mr. Walls into the city ring. Mr. Walls should have his fool friend set him right.

To the organette: Don't get woozy. Take your medicine and keep up the gait. The trouble of this campaign is just beginning.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." Mrs. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

MR. MOUNT HERE.The Next Governor Helps Putnam People Ratify.

Hon. James A. Mount is in the city, by invitation of the Republican County Central committee, to speak at the ratification meeting this afternoon. Mr. Mount is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Lockridge during his stay and a large number of Greencastle and Putnam people will call on the next governor this evening at the residence of Mr. Lockridge, 703 east Washington street. The farmers of the county were putting in their best licks at working their crops today, and Mr. Mount was not disappointed that a larger number of them were not here, for he is a farmer himself and knows what a good day in the field at this time of year amounts to.

There was a good crowd, however, at noon notwithstanding the day broke clear and then rain set in.

This afternoon a large crowd gathered at the court room, completing filling it. Cheers were given for McKinley and Hobart and for Mount. It was a jolly crowd gathered to ratify and ratify they did. The enthusiasm was unbounded and the cheers, shouts and words of encouragement wafted out to democratic ears told that the people of Putnam were largely in accord with the nominees of the republican party upon both National and State tickets, and heartily endorsed the platforms of both National and State conventions.

Mr. Mount did not arrive until the Monon train from the north pulled in at 2:27. He was brought up to the court house and his appearance was the signal for long and continued applause from the assembled audience. Mr. Faris had arrived a few minutes previous and was given a rousing reception. The McKinley Glee club entertained the audience with musical selections for a half hour before the speaking. The club was composed of Harry Maxwell, Wilbur Starr, Will Graham, Will Templin and Paul Burlingame. The club made a great hit and was well received, creating great enthusiasm. Hon. James T. Denny presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Faris. He was followed by Mr. Mount.

CONGRESSMAN FARIS HERE.

An agreeable surprise was given the audience this afternoon in the presence of Hon. George Faris, of Terre Haute, who arrived on the 1:35 train. Mr. Faris, who is a candidate for re-election as congressman of this district, made a ringing speech.

We shall have more to say of Mr. Mount's and Mr. Faris' speeches in our next issue.

AN EXPENSIVE DRINK.

Valued Higher Than a Horse and Rifle. A soldier in the regular army was commenting on the strength of an Indian's love for whiskey. "They are the biggest fools you ever saw. I came across a buck one day on the plains and he asked if I had any whiskey. I shook the canteen and told him there was only one drink there. He insisted on having it and offered his rifle for it. Finally he got mad because I wouldn't take the rifle and pony. You never saw such fools. Why didn't I make the trade? I would, but you see, that was the only drink I had."

This story is used to illustrate the power of human habits, and to speak particularly to those who are annoyed with the coffee habit which is the cause of an immense amount of sickness, the coffee never being suspected. Chemists find the same poisonous alkaloids in coffee as in strychnine, tobacco and morphine.

It is easy to quit coffee by adopting the delicious health coffee made of grains, wheat, &c., &c. Postum Cereal has the deep seal brown color of fine Mocha and changes to the rich golden brown of old Java when cream is added. Its fragrance and flavor are charming.

When coffee is left off and Postum put in its place the old troubles of the body disappear, and under the true nourishment of the food drink, new vitality, strength and the ruddy color of health quickly appear. Postum makes red blood for adults and children, and is a most grateful change from berry coffee, the new beverage having everything in its favor and none of the hurtful properties of the old. Made at Battle Creek, Mich., by the Postum Cereal Co., Lim.

Dr. Albert P. Hedges, 1381 N. Clark St., Chicago, says: "It is a long needed article."

"Just as good" as Postum Cereal are used to defend the public.

COOPER BROS. HARDWARE CO.WILL WOOD'S CASE.

It May Be Taken Up, Now That the Others Are Condemned.

It is reported that Will Wood may be indicted for sending improper letters through the mails, now that Jackson and Walling have both been convicted.

Whatever steps are being taken by the Indiana or Federal authorities toward an indictment of the Greencastle minister's son, the Kentucky officials promise to throw no obstructions in the way.

The letters which would be necessary in the prosecution of Will Wood are now in the custody of the Campbell county circuit court. Commonwealth's Attorney Lockhart says: "If these letters introduced in the Jackson case are needed in an action brought against Wood there will be no objection I am sure, to their being withdrawn from the court here. Exact certified copies could be left."

MRS. JACKSON IS COVINGTON. "If my boy is hanged," declared Mrs. Sarah Jackson after she had visited her son, Scott Jackson, in the Covington jail, "I shall lose my reason. I feel it now."

Mrs. Jackson took lodging in Covington Thursday and will probably remain several days, where she can visit her son. Jailor McKnight has granted her every privilege.

Mrs. Jackson's relatives have the greatest fear that she may die suddenly as a result of the strain she is enduring. She is subject to heart disease, with is hereditary in her family. A sister of Mrs. Jackson died suddenly from heart disease.

Debs or Ridpath.

Despite repeated protestations that he would not accept political preferment of any kind, it is learned today that the populists will insist upon Eugene V. Debs making the race for congress from this district. The party leaders hope to overcome his objections by the time the congressional convention meets at Greencastle, August 13th. If this proves to be impossible, it is probable that John Clarke Ridpath will be the nominee. In either case, it is said to be likely that the democrats will endorse the populist candidate. In fact, they will name him first, as the democratic convention will be held prior to that of the populists.

Democratic managers are said to have already made overtures to populist leaders, looking to a fusion of Debs.

As to Saloons.

There is a question as to whether the liquor licenses granted in Putnam county will hold. The Supreme court covers the matter in two cases recently decided. Judge McGregor and it is one of them—the one in which monstrosities were allowed to remain. The decision also goes back on that Third ward pet all the thirty one names pet to be taken off by two of the commissioners.

Mrs. S. A. Hays entertained about thirty of her lady friends at Mt. Meridian yesterday at an all day picnic. The principal feature of the occasion was one of those grand dinners for which the Half-way house is so celebrated. Those attending state the event was one of the best managed and most enjoyable of the summer season.

The people owe a vote of thanks to Western Union Telegraph Company. The managers went to an enormous expense to get information from the St. Louis convention before the people all over the United States at the earliest possible moment and the result was that wherever there is a telegraph office those in the neighborhood of it had the proceedings in detail before they reached the people in the convention city. It was a gratuitous work but it was thoroughly done.

A good illustration of the intelligence of a dog was seen on our streets today. A blind man who was playing the usual vocation of making a house to house canvass soliciting alms, had dispensed with the usual small boy as a guide, and instead was being led by a dog. The dog was a very sagacious animal, leading its owner into one store and out into another. It gave plenty of illustrations of its intelligence and would not try to enter a store room that was vacant. The pair attracted much attention and there were kind words for both man and beast. The dog had a light harness on attached to which were some bells.

Greencastle is now the proud possessor of three base ball clubs. The latest to come into prominence is one that is known as the "Red Eagles." The first game was played yesterday at Belle Union and was firstclass in every respect. A seven inning game resulted in a tie of five runs each. The boys are all rather young in years but put up a game that would show the Terre Haute people that were here the other day how to play ball. Wilbur Fansler pitched for the home team and Francis Blakely caught his swift curves. The other members of the team are Ollie Grimes, manager, Chas. Howard, John Roberts, Earl Fiske, Frank Taylor, Paul Allen and Arthur Bowen. The game was cut short at the seventh inning to allow the home team time to return. The Belle Union club plays here next Friday in McKean field and another good game is expected.
